

CONFERENCE - DEBATE

on Tuesday 26 June 2018 from 13:00 to 14:30
EESC building Trèves Room TRE 7701 (7th fl, 74 rue de Trèves, 1040 Bruxelles)

"In times of deep change – whether in life or in politics – it is only natural to come back to what defines you and to what holds you together."

President Juncker on the occasion of the proclamation of the European Pillar of Social Right, November 2017

Facing unprecedented challenges globally and at home, there cannot be a better time for the European Union to demonstrate that it is a Union designed for all its citizens, leaving no one behind.

Bringing together their scientific, political and militant experiences, but also different cultural backgrounds, the panellists will explain how fighting poverty will help the European Union win back the hearts of its citizens.

Panel with

Axelle Brodiez Dolino, historian, bronze medal of the Centre nationale de recherche scientifique (CNRS, France) : how people living in poverty have been taken into account in history

Philippe Lamberts, MEP, Co-President of the Greens/EFA : about the ambition to leave no one behind that underpins the Pillar of Social Rights

Bert Luyts, Advocacy Officer EU of ATD Fourth World : about biased thinking on poverty and the reasons for non-access to services

Followed by discussion between panellists and public

Entrance free with badge of EU institutions, registration mandatory for others (delegation.ue@atd-quartmonde.org)
